■ The BRILLIANCE of Broadway! Vocals, handbells. One hour, 10 minutes. Tapestry, the Bay Area's only combined vocal and hand bell ensemble, presents a program titled "The Brilliance of Broadway!" directed by Cindy Krausgrill and accompanist Craig Beattie. The performance includes favorite musical numbers from Broadway shows, including "Les Miserables," "Singing in the Rain," "Oklahoma" and a "Chorus Line."

■ ROSE World: Caring for Your Rose Garden. Informational talk. Two hours. Master rosarians Rose Gilardi and Jack Fitzgerald show how to tend to roses - planting, feeding and pruning. Both gardeners hold teaching and judging credentials with the American Rose Society and the Golden Gate Rose Society and have won numerous awards including the Silver Honor Medal. A lifetime of traveling the world to judge roses and learn new techniques makes this duo a wonderful resource for rose answers.

■ "La TRAVIATA" Opera lecture. 55 minutes.
Diane Farrell Mauch presents a lecture on "La Traviata" by composer Giuseppe Verdi, based on "La dame aux Camellias" (1852) and adapted from the novel by Alexandre Dumas. La Traviata means literally "The Fallen Woman." Mauch is the president of the Opera and Ballet Club and her credentials include a varied career in opera, concert and musical theater. She taught voice and opera theater for many years, most recently at the University of Miami in Coral Gables. Mauch has written extensively on vocal technique and literature and currently presents lectures on all aspects of opera in the Bay Area.

■ "WITS End." Book discussion. 50 minutes.
Karen Joy Fowler's novel, "The Jane Austen Book Club," was a national bestseller and a New York Times Notable Book, and was made into a major motion picture. Fowler lives in Santa Cruz and Davis with her husband. Here, she analyzes readers' modern-day relationship to novels and writers' relationship to their readers; the line between fiction and reality blurs - real people become characters in another's blog as fictional characters become real to the fans that love them.

■ HEMATOLOGY Malignancies. Health talk. 60 minutes.
Dr. Gigi Chen talks about hematology and malignancies, the various types of leukemia that are common in the U.S., how they are diagnosed, as well as the latest treatments.
